

Domeau & Pérès Editions present their new collaboration with Odile Decq

Odile Decq is a French architect and urban planner. Being awarded The Golden Lion of Architecture during the Venice Biennale in 1996 acknowledged her early and unusual career. Other than just a style, an attitude or a process, her work materializes a complete universe that embraces urban planning, architecture, design and art. Odile met Domeau & Pérès in 2001 and chose them to manufacture and edit the furniture she designed for the UNESCO reception hall in Paris.
